Congratulations on making it halfway through the year and welcome to second semester! It is amazing how fast time will fly, so let's make sure you start the second half of the year off on the right foot! Now that you have your schedules make sure to get yourself organized. Practicing the art of organization will go along way in your future, especially when it comes to being responsible. If you need help getting yourself organized, ask your Advisory teacher to help you out! This week we will be doing a weekly drawing for Target gift cards!
